

THE PLUMBER

I telephoned the plumber,
And right on time he came;
He truly was a hummer
And should be known to fame;
He spent no time in gazing,
And found out what was wrong,
And what is more amazing—
He had his tools along.

He did not con the matter
For half an hour or more;
No solder did he spatter
Upon the kitchen floor.
With zeal still undiminished
He worked away for us;
And when the job was finished
He cleared up all the mess.

With beating heart I waited
For his memo of expense,
Which he lightly stated
His bill was fifty cents;
His face grew pale and haggard,
I gave a muffled scream,
Into a chair I staggered,
And "woke—it was a dream."

A LITTLE YELLOW DOG

Ponderous governmental machinery stood stock still while a thirteen year old girl stood before a group of dignified generals at Washington and tearfully pleaded for the life of a little yellow dog.
She was Esther Smiley, of Maryland, sister of Private Peter Smiley, a recruit in the United States Marine Corps, and the dog she held in her arms had been Peter's playmate since youth.
"Rover will surely die of grief unless you send him on to my brother," the little girl sobbed.
And wonder of wonders, the dignified generals understood the little girl's plea, and acting instantly, to preclude the embalming of Rover in the red tape of officialdom, gave the necessary instructions, and within an hour the faithful playmate of Private Peter Smiley was crated up for shipment to the Marine Corps recruit depot, Port Henry, N. Y., to be in training for the land and sea duties of marines.

DRY AND FREE

The star of empire assuredly shines with special brilliance over North America's western seaboard. Already in Alaska, British Columbia, Washington, Oregon and California women have been given civic franchises with Alaska and California voting on November 7th the Pacific Coast, from farthest north to the southernmost boundary of the United States, will be free from the legalized liquor traffic—over a million and a quarter square miles is one unbroken area, with more than four million and a half population, under prohibition and equal suffrage!

DEFECTIVE TEETH

A recent investigation made by the U. S. Public Health Service in connection with studies of rural school children showed that 49.3 per cent had defective teeth, 21.1 per cent had two or more missing teeth, and only 16.9 per cent had had dental attention. Over 14 per cent never used a tooth brush, 53.2 per cent used one occasionally and only 27.4 per cent used one daily. Defective teeth reduce physical efficiency. Dirty, suppurating, jagged-toothed mouths are responsible for many cases of heart disease, rheumatism, and other chronic affections. The children are not responsible for the neglected state of their teeth. The ignorant and careless parent is to blame for this condition—a condition which hampers mental and physical growth and puts a permanent handicap on our future citizens. School teachers can and are doing much in inculcating habits of personal cleanliness on the rural school child but this will fail of the highest accomplishment unless parents co-operate heartily and continuously. This is a duty which we owe our children.

FLOW CLOVER UNDER IN FALL.
Clover cut and allowed to remain on the surface of the ground for seven months from fall to spring loses about the same amount of organic matter as when fed to live stock, according to recent experiments at the Ohio Experiment Station. This amount of organic matter is largely saved by plowing the crop under in the fall.
G. E. Boltz, assistant chemist, in a discussion in the Station's Monthly Bulletin for November says that only about one-third of the clover remained in the spring when the crop was left on the surface. When it was plowed under, about two-fourths of the original weight was found in the spring. From analyses of the drainage water it was found that for four times as much nitrogen was lost from the plot with clover lying on the surface as from that having clover incorporated in the soil.

MIDDLE AGE STANDS TEST.
In a test of endurance, conducted by Lieutenant Kingston of the United States Marine Corps, to determine the staying powers of his men, one hundred and eighteen men, ranging in age from nineteen to fifty-two and carrying the regulation field equipment, were given the test of ascending a steep mountain path, approximately eight miles, within a two-hour limit.
Eighty-four men accomplishing the feat in the prescribed time, and of those, 20 per cent were veterans of forty-four years and over. The average age of those who succeeded was twenty-nine years, while the percentage of tender foot recruits among the losers reduced their average to twenty-four years.

This experiment strengthens the theory of many that trained middle age rivals unseasoned youth.

GIRL WILL TAKE DENTISTRY.
Ambitious of possessing a profession, Alice Rahl has registered in the course of applied optics of The Ohio State University, preparatory to taking up dentistry. She came to this country from Russia in 1909 and is working her way through the University.
"Everything was so different here in America that the five years I had no ambition, but was satisfied as a milliner's assistant," said Miss Rahl. "Then I began to realize the wonderful opportunities for women. I saw that an education was a stepping stone to them, so I went to night school for two years." Miss Rahl intends to enter the College of Dentistry.

SHORT-COURSE AGS ARRIVE.
With a registration to date of 224 students in the short course in agriculture, which opened last Tuesday at The Ohio State University, indications point to the probability of a record-breaking year in the three-year course in spite of the fact that difficulty in obtaining farm hands will keep many at home. The hour exceeds that of the same day last year by 30, and is greater by seven than the total number enrolled last year.
This course is offered for the benefit of those who must be at home during the early fall and spring and aims to give knowledge of the fundamentals of agriculture. The only requirement for admission is previous experience in agricultural work.

How Catarrh is Contracted.
Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucous membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. Obtainable everywhere.

RAILROAD AND REVOLTING.
The attempt of the four heads of the railroad brotherhoods and of Samuel Gompers to deliver organized labor body and breeches over to Wilson has stirred up a spirit of revolt among the members of the trade union. Arthur D. Burbank, chairman of the legislative board of Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in Illinois, declares that there is a decided trend toward Hughes among railroad men as they have the opportunity to study and discuss the so-called eight-hour law; and there is a reaction against the attempt of the grand lodge officers to use the members politically. "As to the Adamson law, none of our members understand it, and all are more or less suspicious of it. Our members have not forgotten the conditions two years ago, when train crews were laid off by hundreds and thousands, and they understand that the present prosperity is due entirely to the European war. A recent statement issued by the president of one of the brotherhoods to the effect that the men who do not support Wilson are to be put in the class with men who would stand by the railroads in a strike, has caused a tremendous revulsion of feeling, and has made thousands who were wavering come out openly for Hughes. Any union man with spirit will resent such a slur."

Sloan's Liniment for Neuralgia Aches.
The neuralgia is quickly relieved by Sloan's Liniment, the universal remedy for pain. Easy to apply; it quickly penetrates without rubbing and soothes the sore muscles. Cleanser and more promptly effective than musky plasters or ointment; does not stain the skin or clog the pores. For stiff muscles, chronic rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sprains and strains it gives quick relief. Sloan's Liniment reduces the pain and inflammation in insect bites, bruises, bumps and other minor injuries to children. Get a bottle to-day at your Druggist, 25c.

CORRECTION.
In the October 13th issue of The Tribune in the report of Transfers of Real Estate the paragraph reading: "Lillian Carl to W. T. N. Rynd, 40 acres, section 14, Royalton township" should read "one acre more or less." Notice of the error was received too late to make the correction last week.

PRISON FARM

appropriated for the new prison farm, $23,600.00 for farm building, fencing and tiling; this is exactly $100.00 more than his Budget Commissioner, Mr. Heffernan, recommended be appropriated for this purpose for the fiscal year of 1915 and 1916. He makes no recommendation for other buildings.
Dr. J. A. Leonard of Mansfield, president of the Ohio Penitentiary Commission, appointed by Gov. Cox, in a letter dated April 14, 1915, and written in reply to one I sent him asking what plans and specifications had been prepared for the building of the new prison and what appropriation should be made to the commission, said, "I would say that we have never made any extensive survey with a view of determining the general plan and design for the buildings to be erected on the new penitentiary site."

Again in the same letter, Dr. Leonard, after making a request for an appropriation to continue the work of the commission, says, "If this be done, the two years that must intervene before appropriation can be made for building purposes could be very wisely used by the Commission in making a thorough survey and to work out plans and specifications for the consideration of the Governor and the Legislature that will give promise of an institution which will meet the prison needs and which will meet the approval of intelligent criticism in twenty-five years after the plant has been erected."

Hon. Samuel Black, secretary of the Ohio Penitentiary Commission by appointment of Governor Cox, and a Democrat, was a member of the House Penitentiary Committee, and he or any other Democrat or any other person, did not offer an amendment at any time for an appropriation to erect buildings on the new prison farm other than those contained in the law. The Willis legislature appropriated more money for buildings at the new prison farm for the two fiscal years beginning July 1st, 1915, and July 1st, 1916, than Gov. Cox's budget commissioner recommended. It made an appropriation to continue the work of the Penitentiary Commission as its president requested. If Mr. Cox had been governor would he have had it done differently? Would he have gone contrary to the recommendations of his budget commissioner and Dr. Leonard?

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.

OFFICERS' RESERVE SCHOOL PLANS ARE DISCUSSED

"Were we untrained men to go to the front today we would not be worth our weight in dust," declared Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of The Ohio State University, in convocation last week. "For this reason, England will not let her soldiers go to the trenches until they have completed a year's work in camp, so that they will be of maximum value to their country when the time comes," he continued. President Thompson returned Thursday morning from Washington, where he attended a conference of college presidents and war department officials, who discussed means of putting into operation the sections of the National Defense Act relating to the training of reserve officers.

"Before the outbreak of the European War there was much talk of the utilization of the military forces of the land-grant colleges. The passage of the National Defense Act, however, spoiled plans already made. The matter has been brought up again, and this time concerns the establishment of a reserve officers' training school in the land-grant colleges. Such a unit established at Ohio State would be made up of third and fourth year students who have completed two years' compulsory work in military drill. All equipment will be furnished by the Federal Government and in addition they will receive $9 per month pay. Upon the completion of the work they will be given rank of second lieutenant, and six months' experience in a summer camp with a salary of $100 per month, and a stipend of $100 at the end of this period will be placed on the reserve officers' list."

In commenting upon President Lowry's (now) plan of substituting summer camp work, and broad study of military tactics for the military drill on the campus, President Thompson said that the department will not give them all the rights due to the land-grant colleges. These men, he believes, should be subjected to an examination before being granted a commission.
